Part 1. Introduction to AMC Training & Consulting

Welcome to AMC

Thank you for choosing to study with AMC Training & Consulting (AMC), a Registered Training Organisation (RTO).

AMC has been delivering training and consulting services in nursing and residential aged care across Queensland since 2005. In 2010 AMC became a Registered Training Organisation (RTO) No. 32129 and delivers nationally accredited training.

We want to support you on your journey of learning. As a newly enrolled student we will support you in any way we can to achieve your goals for learning and employment.

The purpose of this handbook is to provide information that will be useful to you as a valued student in our RTO. You will find information in this handbook on the services and support available to you whilst studying with the AMC as well as a guideline on how assessments will occur.

If you require further information or have questions, email enquiry@amctc.com.au or call (07) 3711 7130.

You can also visit our website <https://www.amctc.com.au/>

We trust you will have a rewarding and enjoyable experience whilst meeting your goals with AMC Training & Consulting.

Manager – Operations RTO
AMC Training & Consulting Pty Ltd

Our vision & mission

“Equipping for Life” is our mandate. AMC Training & Consulting (AMC) recognises that all learning is helpful for life and the development of confidence and personal wellbeing. The overall aim is to provide adult education and training in a client-oriented environment for a skilled and adaptable workforce to meet the ever-changing needs of industry.

AMC goals

- Support and enhance the standards of care for elders and people with a disability in our community, with training based on evidence-based practice.
- Increase the number of qualified staff in aged care, community & disability sectors.
- Provide excellence in care training to bless and support elders.
- Provide flexible delivery to support students when other training formats are not suitable.

Our facilities

We will provide you with an orientation of the facilities that will be used during your course.

Each of our training spaces have facilities for students to store food, make tea and coffee and obtain cool drinks. We also provide the necessary items to sanitize hands and regularly wipe down high touch points with antibacterial wipes to prevent the spread of infection.

We also provide equipment for students to learn safe manual handling, hoisting, wheelchair use, patient transfer techniques, etc. We ask that whilst using our facilities that students ensure they are following trainers' directions and do not use any equipment in a manner that may put themselves or others at risk.

Part 2. Registered training organisation information

Registration

AMC Training and Consulting (AMC) is a Registered Training Organisation (RTO). This means we are a nationally recognised training organisation providing training, assessment and qualifications services for existing aged care, disability and community sector staff and members of the public wishing to gain a qualification that is required for employment in aged and community care.

Services provided to students follow the policies and procedures developed to meet the National Training Framework and National Standards of the Australian Skills Quality Authority (ASQA).

Terminology

Throughout this handbook AMC uses the term “student” in all references to those accessing training through our RTO. The term “client” refers to all people who will receive the care from a student during their training or when employed in the aged, disability or community care sector.

Vocational Education & Training (VET)

In Australia, after people complete their compulsory schooling, their main choices for further education are Vocational Education and Training (VET) and university.

VET aims to provide people with the skills and knowledge they require to:

- enter the workforce for the first time
- re-enter the workforce after absences
- train or re-train for a new job
- upgrade their skills
- move into further study in VET or university

National Training Package

AMC are committed to delivering the most up-to-date qualifications and if there are any changes in the qualification requirements these will be made as soon as possible. If a whole training package is changed there is a teach out period of 12 months which will allow currently enrolled students to complete their training or AMC will transition students to the new qualification if insufficient time available. Any significant changes in the training package will be communicated with all students via email correspondence.

Workplace Health and Safety Policies

The Work Health and Safety policy of AMC aims to protect students and others when in the classroom or at their industry work-placement from work-caused injury and ill health and complies with all relevant safety legislation.

Training in the workplace

When delivering training and assessment in the workplace the employer is responsible for safety issues and abides by workplace safety responsibilities. AMC will review the workplace initially and make any recommendations to employers on additional requirements you may need in your work routine.

WH&S responsibility

All trainers and supervisors that direct your work as a student share responsibility for the safety of all persons in their charge. It is important that you communicate any concerns and get any clarification you need from the supervisors in your industry work-placement.

Trainers and supervisors actively take steps to identify hazards which could cause harm to persons in their area of control or operation and take prompt action to remove or control, or alternatively report them to another person who has the authority and capability to do so.

Students must take care of their own health and safety and that of their fellow workers to the extent of their capability. This means they must follow all safety requirements, procedures and instructions of Course Coordinators and trainers, workplace supervisor or any other management person/s involved during their day-to-day training activities. Students must also be proactive in identifying and reporting any areas of risk they come across.

While involved in work placement, students must comply with all reasonable directions given by the employer. Students are required to know and understand the following under the Work Health and Safety Act 2011 which states that a person at a workplace who:

- (1) acts in a manner that endangers the health and safety of another person at the workplace; or
- (2) fails to carry out a safety direction that is given to the person by the principal contractor or employer, as the case may be, for the workplace concerned; or
- (3) willfully or recklessly interferes with anything provided in the interests of health and safety at the workplace;

Commits an offence against this Act. b) Section 118 of the Anti-Discrimination Act 1991, which states: A person must not sexually harass another person. (Sexual harassment may include physical contact, verbal comments, and non-verbal action - including displays of explicit sexual material)

Unique student identifier (USI)

What is a USI?

If you are studying nationally recognised training in Australia, you are required to have a Unique Student Identifier (USI). Your USI links to an online account that contains all your training records and results (transcript) that you have completed. The USI Website will indicate that latest year and the latest quarter that data is available for inclusion in USI Transcripts.

When applying for a job or enrolling in further study, you will often need to provide your training records and results (transcript). One of the main benefits of the USI is the ability to provide students with easy access to their training records and results (transcript) throughout their life.

You can access your USI account online from your computer, tablet or smart phone anytime using this website. <https://www.usi.gov.au/>

USI Privacy notice

You are advised, and agree that you understand and consent, that the personal information you provide in connection with your enrolment and an application for a USI:

- is collected by the Student Identifiers Registrar for the purposes of applying for, verifying and giving a USI, resolving problems with a USI; and creating authenticated vocational education and training (VET) transcripts;

may be disclosed to:

- Commonwealth and State/Territory government departments and agencies and statutory bodies performing functions relating to VET for:
- the purposes of administering and auditing Vocational Education and Training (VET), VET providers and VET programs;
- education related policy and research purposes; and
- to assist in determining eligibility for training subsidies;
- VET Regulators to enable them to perform their VET regulatory functions;
- VET Admission Bodies for the purposes of administering VET and VET programs;

- current and former Registered Training Organisations to enable them to deliver VET courses to the individual, meet their reporting obligations under the VET standards and government contracts and assist in determining eligibility for training subsidies;
- schools for the purposes of delivering VET courses to the individual and reporting on these courses;
- the National Centre for Vocational Education Research (NCVER) for the purpose of creating authenticated VET transcripts, resolving problems with USIs and for the collection, preparation, and auditing of national VET statistics;
- researchers for education and training related research purposes;
- any other person or agency that may be authorised or required by law to access the information;
- any entity contractually engaged by the Student Identifiers Registrar to assist in the performance of his or her functions in the administration of the USI system; and
- will not otherwise be disclosed without their consent unless authorised or required by or under law.

The privacy notice should include a reference to the Student Identifiers Registrar's Privacy Policy and note that this document contains information about how the individual may:

- access and seek correction of the personal information held about them; and
- complain about a breach of privacy and how such complaints will be dealt with.

Government funded training

Some students will be eligible for Government Funding in a Traineeship or through State Government Certificate 3 Guarantee Program or Higher-Level Skills Funding. If you have been enrolled with any of these funding subsidies, you will be given a Fact Sheet about your specific funding and the requirements and eligibility criteria.

If you are studying in High School and are eligible for VETiS funding, your school will have talked to you and your parents and made sure you are eligible before they contact us as the RTO.

If you are a Trainee, your employer and an Apprenticeship Service will have met with you and made sure you are eligible before they contact us as the RTO.

If you are applying for a Certificate III or below you may be eligible for funding if you do not hold, or are enrolled in, a Certificate III level or higher qualification (not including qualifications completed at school and foundation skills training).

If you are applying for a Certificate IV or a Skill Set you may be eligible for funding if you do not hold, or are enrolled in, a Certificate IV level or higher qualification (not including qualifications completed at school and foundations skills training)

You must:

- be a Queensland resident
- be aged 15 years or over, and no longer attending school
- be an Australian or New Zealand citizen or Australian permanent resident (including humanitarian entrants), or a temporary resident with the necessary visa and work permits
- on the pathway to permanent residency

DESBT Training and Employment Survey

The Department of Small Business and Training (DESBT) will contact you directly when you are finished your studies for a survey. By accepting Government subsidised training you agree to participate in this survey.

If you are eligible for funding, you will be asked to provide AMC with documents proving your eligibility for the funding which could include:

- Specifying on the enrolment that you are not enrolled in or have not completed a Certificate III / IV or higher since leaving High School.
- Drivers Licence / over 18 ID Card / Birth Certificate
- Passport
- Medicare Card (Green)

If you wish to learn more, please visit the Department of Employment, Small Business and Training (DESBT) website: <https://desbt.qld.gov.au/training/training-careers/incentives/certificate3/faq>

Communication of operational changes to AMC

If any changes occur within AMC that directly affect students such as changes to registration, funding eligibility or operational structure, we will take all reasonable steps to ensure that training is completed in accordance with our contractual relationship with our students.

Part 3: Information for students

Selection of Participants

- An enrolment and induction program is provided to participants commencing training. An introductory interview will be held with the interested applicant once the required paperwork has been submitted. Wherever possible a zoom interview is used to ascertain people's capacity for online communication and to discuss entry requirements and enrolment procedures.
- Recruitment of participants will be conducted at all times in an ethical and responsible manner and be consistent with the requirements of the curriculum/training package. AMC will ensure that student's application and selection processes are explicit and defensible and comply with access and equity principles.

Initial interview

Prior to commencing training, prospective participants have an initial interview (in person, on the phone or via zoom). The purposes of this interview are to allow;

- prospective participants to receive information and ask questions about the training they are interested in.
- trainers / course coordinators to assess prospective student's eligibility to commence training where there are prerequisites.
- AMC to advise that all participants are required to have a current influenza vaccination and provide evidence thereof; in line with the Australian Government requirements for Aged Care facilities from September 2021.

- AMC to advise that all participants who require vocational placement are required to have vaccinations for COVID and provide evidence thereof; in line with the Australian Government requirements for Aged Care facilities.
- special needs or access requirements to be determined, including appropriate alternative formats and adaptive technologies required by the student.
- trainers to check for computer literacy for the program. The community services industry relies heavily on online forms of communication.
- to develop or start to create an individual training plan.
- Information provided to participants
- AMC will provide accurate, relevant, and up-to-date information to participants prior to course commencement. This will include, but not be limited to;
 - scope of registration
 - certification to be issued to the trainee on completion or partial completion of the course
 - competencies to be achieved during the training
 - assessment procedures
 - arrangement for recognition of prior learning (RPL/RCC)
 - complaints/appeal procedure
 - facilities and equipment
 - trainee support services
 - application process and selection criteria
 - fees and costs involved in undertaking training
 - fee refund policy
 - student support services

Participants will need to become familiar with all Induction material and to sign the enrolment form indicating they are aware the details on this form may be used for statistical reporting.

Individual training plan

Each student will have an individual training plan developed upon enrolment or commencement of studies. This plan will list the units to be achieved as well as assessment tasks and dates for completion. This plan will be continually reviewed during the training program so aspects of the plan can be re-negotiated, if required.

Responsibilities of students

As a student you will be required to take responsibility for:

- Reading all relevant course and training information.
- Advising your Trainer / Course Coordinator / Employer if you have previous skills and knowledge and seeking recognition of this prior learning.
- Monitoring your progress by self-assessing your skills and knowledge against the competency standards in your qualification.

- Attending all training sessions as required.
- Behave in a reasonable and appropriate manner in the classroom and work experience settings. Any behavior that is disruptive or dangerous will be investigated.
- Meeting with your Trainer/Course Coordinator to review progress.
- Indicating when you are ready for assessment or seek alternative assessment dates.
- Working closely with your Course Coordinator / Employer and other students to present training and assessment session role-plays as evidence where required.
- Handing in all assessment tasks as per requirements on training plan unless discussed with trainer.
- Complete course requirements within 9 -12 months of commencement for Cert III & IV, and within 3 - 4 months for Skill Sets. An extension fee may apply.
- If you cease to communicate with us or do not continue to actively participate in your course, AMC will withdraw you from the studies after attempting to receive ongoing involvement with you on no less than 3 occasions. You will need to re-enroll if this process has commenced. A fee may be incurred to re-enroll or to apply for course extension.
- Ensuring all work is your own and not copied or plagiarized.
- Retaining evidence of your working notes and assessments and any other documents in your portfolio of evidence and presenting this for assessment.
- Discussing any concerns regarding the training course, session activities and your ability to learn with your trainer / course coordinator / employer.
- Advising the Trainer/Course Coordinator if you require any special adaptive equipment or support for the training course.
- Participating in course evaluation and providing feedback.
- Making full payment for the course (if applicable).
- Complete evaluations at the end of each unit of study to assist with continuous improvement.
- Notify AMC of any injury (especially back and neck) that occurs during the class time or the industry work-placement.
- Notify AMC of any change in your personal details that occur throughout the course of your training.

Responsibilities of AMC RTO to students:

AMC will:

- Provide you with a safe and healthy learning environment and treat you with respect.
- Provide you with a training and assessment schedule.
- Provide you with the appropriate unit of competency details included on your plan.
- Follow all legislation affecting the learning environment.
- Provide opportunities to practice the skills and knowledge required.
- Deliver and record training and assessment outcomes.
- Provide you with access to your file records if requested.
- Set up work tasks to provide training and coaching to help achieve the competency standards in your training plan.
- Provide training materials and recommend other resources for further learning.
- Prepare you for assessment when you are ready and encourage self-assessment.
- Advise you where, when, and how assessment will occur and what to bring.

- Assess your skills and knowledge by observation, questioning, and other methods as outlined in each module’s assessment tools.
- Give feedback to you on your progress.
- Provide results and review the assessment process after assessment.
- Remind you of the appeals process and options for further assessments if you are unhappy with the results.

Types of support given

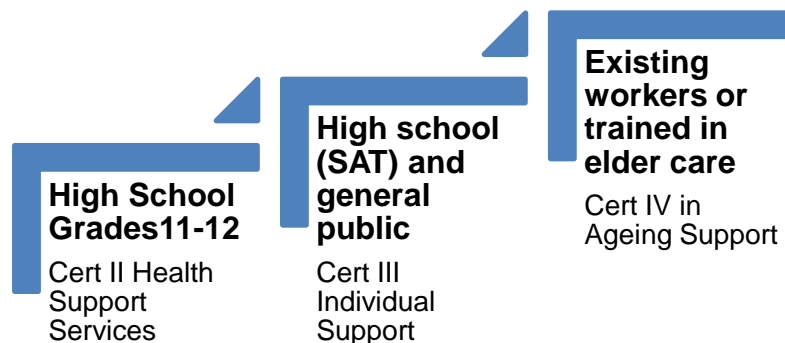

AMC recognise that learning is a journey that continues for life and occurs in many contexts, not just in formal learning environments. Life-long learning means that each individual student will come to us with a wealth of life experience and learning. AMC provides levels of support relating to an individual and their learning needs.

We have identified three broad categories of student and how we will support each of them to achieve their study goals. It does not matter which category you are in, AMC will support you as a unique individual.

If you feel you are needing more support. Please speak to your trainers and they will meet with you and plan how to best support you.

High level of formal experience	Moderate level of Life and other industry experience	Low level of life experience and cultural / ESL challenges
Support given <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Facilitated classroom support • Access to trainers for questions • AMC source Vocational Placement • Support with orientation to VPA, a Support Visit and Assessments undertaken • One-on-one support via email and phone as needed 	Plus, additional Support Given <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • One-on-one support face to face during classroom phase • Additional VPA hours as needed to development skills gap • Extra support in VPA as needed • Study group formation to support learner’s progress • Availability of team of trainers to support learning 	Plus, additional support given <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Modules for study given the week before class to pre-read • Tutorial Support ½ days, during and post-classroom phase • One-to-one support fortnightly post-classroom phase, phone and in person • Ongoing GAP analysis of training needs and focused support in these areas in VPA and tutorial support • Additional VP hours up to 239 • Additional Support visits • Repeat the classes at no cost

What your study will involve

There is a career path for school studies right through to the Certificate IV in ageing support and beyond. Please note that none of the courses are a prerequisite for the next level qualification.

Enrolment

Students are required to complete a range of documents for enrolment into our courses, and undergo the following checks which AMC will arrange at no cost to our students:

- Criminal History Check - upon enrolment
- Blue Card – working with Children Check
- NDIS Worker Screening Check *

Please note that if a positive criminal history notice is returned as a result of any of these checks, you will be unable to attend vocational placement, therefore you will not meet requirements of the course, thus making you ineligible for funding and unable to continue with this course.

Students may also be asked to complete the following online training modules prior to vocational placement, where this is a requirement of vocational placement:

- COVID module - Infection Control
- NDIS Worker Orientation Module, 'Quality, Safety and You'

Each course will have different requirements and we will notify you of these in a personalized letter.

HLT23215 Certificate II in Health Support Services

VETiS – VET in schools

Students will be trained by AMC in a classroom setting, either at your school or at our Training Centre. This will involve one day a week for three school terms.

- You will be completing 12 modules over 7-8 months - one module will be completed every 2 weeks. (Minimum 12hrs of study per module)
- Attend three industry support visits to a hospital, an aged care facility and a disability service provider.
- You will be developing practical skills at each class day, utilizing the AMC skills lab.

CHC33015 / CHC33021 Certificate III in Individual Support

SAT – School Based Trainee/Apprentice

Theory

- SAT's are required to complete 13 modules over 9-12 months (15 modules for CHC33021.)
- Students will be trained by AMC in the classroom setting at a venue to be decided. There will be three modules taught in each school holiday period and there will be homework that needs to be done to complete a module. (Students who miss class days will be required to work on modules at home and speak to their AMC trainer about questions they have.)
- Students who wish to have extra modules to complete at home can fast track their completion to 9 months (or less if they have capacity to do so.)
- Employment
- You undertake a training contract with an employer who provides the required 375 hours of paid work, that is endorsed by your school. This will involve working a morning shift of 7.5 hours of paid work on one set school-day each week in the school term. Over the period of a year, the employer must provide at a minimum the equivalent of 375 hours (50 days minimum) of paid employment.

- Days that are missed due to any reason (illness, holidays, exams etc.) can be made up in school holidays and this is up to the employer to decide.
- A total of 375 hours must be completed before your SAT is complete.
- AMC trainer visits are scheduled every two to four weeks to work alongside you, increase your skills and help to establish you in the workplace.

Mature entry students

AMC's style of training in our combination of classroom and self-directed learning, requires students to have life experience, work experience, and a degree of maturity to be able to do the self-directed learning involved in this course.

AMC expects our learners will supplement the classroom days with the following self-directed learning. Self-directed learning could have the following requirements for someone who has no transferability of skills or knowledge and is brand-new to the industry and or has English as a second language.

- 98 hour - Class based input (Can re-attend at no extra cost)
- 239 hour - Vocational placement (maximum allowed), with a minimum of 120 hours
- 50 hours - Internet research and community-based research for the entire course
- 200 hours - Pre-reading of modules and post-reading of modules in order to complete the case studies, assessable activities and in order to be ready for workplace assessments.
- 50 hours - Workplace supervision and support by AMC trainers and assesses to ensure they are ready for assessment
- 50 hours - Researching workplace policies and procedures, reading manuals in the workplace, reading job descriptions and duty lists in the workplace, researching answers required for their workplace activities, interviewing residents in the workplace for case studies.
- 150 hours - Completing the self-paced learning component of their workbooks. This includes all their homework, completing the portfolio and attaching them to their module and completing the case studies.

CHC43015 Certificate IV in Ageing Support

Existing workers and mature entry

The AMC Certificate IV in Ageing Support course is suitable for those who work in, or who have studied in, the Aged Care sector as well as people with care or community service experience.

AMC expects our learners will supplement the classroom days with the self-directed learning identified in the III in Individual Support, plus additional hours as required if no previous modules have been completed in a Certificate III.

Theory and essential knowledge component can be delivered via classroom workshops and online interaction.

The practical skills will be developed on the job within the student's current employment under supervision of the employer. Students are required to complete or provide evidence of a minimum of 120 hours of employment and skill development at a Certificate IV level. Assessment of practical skills will be assessed in the workplace by our trainers.

CHC43115 Certificate IV in Disability

Existing workers and mature entry

The AMC Certificate IV in Disability course is suitable for those who work in, or who have studied in, the disability support sector as well as people with care or community service experience.

AMC expects our learners will supplement the classroom days with the self-directed learning identified in the III in Individual Support, plus additional hours as required if no previous modules have been completed in a Certificate III.

Theory and essential knowledge component can be delivered via classroom workshops and online interaction.

The practical skills will be developed on the job within the student's current employment under supervision of the employer. Students are required to complete or provide evidence of a minimum of 120 hours of employment and skill development at a Certificate IV level. Assessment of practical skills will be assessed in the workplace by our trainers.

CHCSS00070 Assist Clients with Medication Skill Set

This course is suitable for those who work in, the Aged Care, Home Care or Disability sectors. You will need to demonstrate that you have the capacity to develop the skills and competencies for the assessments in your work environment.

Theory and essential knowledge component will usually be via distance education or online interaction. Our trainers will be available by phone or email to assist with questions and provide support.

The practical skills will be developed on the job under the supervision of a Registered Nurse, Enrolled Nurse or an Aboriginal Health Care Worker. Assessment of practical skills can only be undertaken in the workplace by any of the previously mentioned supervisors.

CHCSS00098 Individual Support – Disability Skill Set

The practical skills will be developed on the job under the supervisor or the Manager of the service. Assessment of practical skills can only be undertaken in the workplace by any of the previously mentioned supervisors.

Access and equity

AMC has a firm commitment to the principles of Equal Opportunity and aims to protect both prospective students and students already enrolled.

There shall be no discrimination on the grounds of sex, marital status, pregnancy, parenthood, disability, race, religious or political beliefs, age, sexual preference or HIV status.

AMC actively supports and encourages people of all abilities to participate in training programs. We will endeavor at all times to ensure access and equity principles and practices are applied in our dealings with people. AMC and its staff will treat every student fairly and without discrimination in the training environment and / or in the workplace. Staff will be professional and supportive at all times in their approach to students.

Disabilities

Please inform the RTO Director of any additional needs so that we can take all reasonable steps to ensure these needs are met. There is a disability section on the enrolment form which you will have filled in and the RTO Director or representative will contact you to discuss your need.

Literacy, numeracy, and additional support needs

If you have any language literacy or numeracy concerns, please notify your trainer if you have not already indicated this on the enrolment form. If a Language Literacy of Numeracy issue is identified, we are able to make reasonable adjustments to accommodate your needs or refer you to appropriate support services as required.

AMC is committed to assisting students with a variety of abilities to succeed. All students will be required to complete a Pre-course Language Literacy & Numeracy activity. Requirements such as alternative formats, adaptive technology and adjustments for other disabilities will be identified and provided where practicable. Students who are experiencing concerns with literacy or numeracy are encouraged to contact the following support services:

- Australian Council for Adult Literacy <https://acal.edu.au/>
- Reading and Writing Hotline 1300 655 506

Support Services (Participants at risk)

AMC Training and Consulting has intervention strategies in place, which includes participant support services available to enable participants to complete the qualification within the expected timeframe. Participants at risk of not completing within the timeframe are identified as early as possible, and interventions actioned according to their individual needs.

We have included the following links to support services which students can access if they wish to. Drug and Alcohol Abuse:

- Al-Anon <https://al-anon.org/>
- Family Drug Support <https://fds.org.au/>

General Support

- Beyond Blue <https://www.beyondblue.org.au/>
- Lifeline <https://www.lifeline.org.au/> 13 11 14
- Salvation Army <https://www.salvationarmy.org.au/>

Student records and Privacy Policy

AMC is committed to maintaining the privacy and confidentiality of our RTO personnel and participant records. We do this by complying with the Privacy Act 1988 including the 13 Australian Privacy Principles (APPs) as outlined in the Privacy Amendment (Enhancing Privacy Protection) Act 2012.

As a component of our risk management practices, AMC has conducted a Privacy Impact Assessment for all operations. Mitigation actions from this risk assessment have been implemented for the management of privacy risks at each stage of the information lifecycle, including collection, use, disclosure, storage, destruction, and de-identification.

Providing an overall framework for our privacy practices, AMC has developed and implemented this APP Privacy Policy. AMC manages personal information in an open and transparent way. This is evident in the implementation of practices, procedures, and systems we outline in this policy, that ensure our compliance with the APPs and any binding registered APP code and provide suitable procedures for AMC personnel to be able to deal with related enquiries and complaints that may be received from time to time.

The following sections of this policy outline how we manage personal information:

Australian Privacy Principle 1 – Open and Transparent Management of Personal Information

Purposes for information collection, retention, use and disclosure. AMC retains a record of personal information about all individuals with whom we undertake any form of business activity. AMC must collect, hold, use and disclose information from our clients and stakeholders for a range of purposes, including, but not limited to:

- Providing services to clients;
- Managing employee and contractor teams;
- Promoting products and services;
- Conducting internal business functions and activities; and
- Requirements of stakeholders.

As a Government Registered Training Organisation, regulated by the Australian Skill Quality Authority (ASQA), AMC is required to collect, hold, use and disclose a wide range of personal and sensitive information on participants in nationally recognised training programs. This information requirement is outlined in the National Vocational Education and Training Regulator Act 2011 and associated legislative instruments. In particular, the legislative instruments:

- Student Identifiers Act 2014;
- Standards for Registered Training Organisations (RTOs) 2015; and
- Data Provision Requirements 2012.

It is noted that AMC is also bound by various State Government Acts requiring similar information collection, use and disclosure (particularly Educations Act(s), Vocational Education and Training Act(s) and Traineeship and Apprenticeship Act(s) relevant to state jurisdictions of AMC operations).

It is further noted that aligned with these legislative requirements, AMC delivers services through a range of Commonwealth Government funding contract agreement arrangements, which also include various information collection and disclosure requirements. Individuals are advised that due to these legal requirements, AMC discloses information held on individuals for valid purposes to a range of entities including:

- Governments (Commonwealth);
- Employers (and their representatives), Job Network provides, schools, guardians; and
- Service providers such as a credit agencies and background back providers.

The following types of personal information are generally collected, depending on the need for service deliver:

- Contact details; Employment details;
- Educational background;
- Demographic information;
- Course progress and achievement information; and
- Financial billing information.

The following types of sensitive information may also be collected and held:

- Identity details;
- Employee details and HR information;
- Complaint or issue information;
- Disability status and other individual needs;
- Indigenous status; and
- Background checks (such as National Criminal Checks or Working with Children checks).

Where AMC collects personal information of more vulnerable segments of the community (such as children), additional practices and procedures are also followed. Please refer to AMC Working with Children Policy and Procedure for further information.

How Personal Information is Collected

AMC's usual approach to collecting personal information is to collect any required information directly from the individuals concerned. This may include the use of forms (such as registration forms, enrolment forms or service delivery records) and the use of web-based systems (such as online enquiry forms, web portals or internal operating systems).

AMC does receive solicited and unsolicited information from third party sources in undertaking service delivery activities. This may include information from such entities such as:

- Governments (Commonwealth);
- Employers (and their representatives), Job Network providers, schools, guardians; and
- Service providers such as credit agencies and background check providers.

How Personal Information is Held

AMC's usual approach to holding personal information includes robust storage and security measures at all times. Information on collection is:

- As soon as practical converted to electronic means;
- Stored in secure, password protected systems, such as financial systems, learning management systems and student management systems; and
- Monitored for appropriate authorised use at all times.

Only authorised personnel are provided with login information to each system, with system access limited to only those relevant to their specific role. AMC's IT systems are hosted internally with robust internal security to physical server locations and server system access. Virus protection, backup procedures and ongoing access monitoring procedures are in place.

Destruction of paper-based records occurs as soon as practicable in every matter, through the use of secure shredding and destruction services at all AMC sites. Individual information held across systems is linked through an AMC allocated identification number for each individual.

Attendance

We expect students to fully attend all scheduled class days and work placement days. This includes being on time and coming back at the allotted time after breaks. Please be aware that if you are consistently absent, this may stop you from completing your course, and we may need to transfer you to another group at a later date.

Mobile Phones

All mobile phones should be switched off or put on silent during our classes and are not permitted to be used during work placement when on the floor. If you are expecting an urgent call, please let your trainer know prior to course commencement and leave the room to take the call. Please be aware that if you have missed a section of the course due to the length of time outside, this may impact on your ability to receive a formal judgement of completion.

Dress Code

As part of your course will include a vocational placement at either an aged care or a disability organisation, students will be expected to adhere to that organization's dress code for the duration of their placement. AMC trainers will advise you of this, as each organization will have a differing dress code. Generally, we expect closed in shoes, a plain polo shirt and either a plain skirt or pants, with no clothing shorter than above the knees. Leggings, gym attire, ripped jeans or midriff exposing clothing is not permitted. Students may be asked to remove any false nails prior to placement, as these pose an infection risk. Long hair must be tied back, and jewelry must be kept to a minimum – also due to infection risks.

At our practical skills days, students will be expected to dress in the clothing they are planning to wear to their vocational placement, so AMC can provide advice as to whether this is appropriate to the facility the student will be placed in.

Individual Training Plan

Each student will have an Individual Training Plan developed upon enrolment or commencement of studies. This plan will list the units to be achieved as well as assessment tasks and dates for completion. This plan will be continually reviewed during the training program so you can re-negotiate any aspects of your plan.

Credit Transfer (CT) and Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL)

AMC will assist in a smooth transition of students moving between courses and institutions, thus providing opportunities to fulfill their potential, respond to changing employment needs and reduce the time needed to complete their current qualification.

For consistency of use AMC will use the following definitions;

- Credit transfer (or CT): the granting of status or credit by an institution or training organisation to students for modules (subjects) or units of competency completed at the same or another institution or training organisation.
- Recognition of prior learning (or RPL): the acknowledgement of a person's skills and knowledge acquired through previous training, work or life experience, which may be used to grant status or credit in a subject or module.

If you believe you may be eligible for CT or RPL please discuss the matter with AMC office staff.

Credit Transfer

If you have completed nationally recognised accredited training previously you may be eligible for credit transfer. A credit transfer means that we will recognize your prior training and you will not need to repeat training you have already completed. AMC recognizes prior nationally accredited qualifications when participants apply for courses. Upon enquiry and on completion of the enrolment form, students wishing to apply for a CT must:

- Provide a certified copy of quals or a USI transcript
- Sign a declaration giving AMC permission to contact the RTO for confirmation of their completed studies
- If the RTO is no longer in operation the student will need to complete an application online at ASQA and provide us with the transcript from ASQA

After sufficient evidence is submitted each case is assessed on an individual basis for relevance and recognition into the course being applied for. Credit transfers are awarded wherever possible once verified in writing with the issuing training provider.

Recognition of Prior Learning

If you have skills and knowledge from prior education, work experience, family and community experience that relates to your training you may seek recognition of prior learning (RPL). *(refer appendix 2 for Overview of RPL process).

If you wish to apply for RPL, a formal AMC - RPL Application Form must be submitted, with an initial application fee of $350.00 (non-refundable fee if unsuccessful).

You will be required to supply AMC with sufficient information / documentation, including evidence such as:

- A certified copy of your qualification/s
- Verification from your current manager indicating your current involvement in relevant subjects – on official letterhead
- Documented evidence of your current work including samples as requested.
- If you are successful in your application a deduction of $100.00 per unit approved for Credit Transfer or RPL will apply to the total qualification cost.
- Or alternately the $350 application fee is paid in addition to $200 per unit for those units not approved for Credit Transfer or RPL.
- RPL costings for a Skill Set will still incur the $350 application fee. If the full Skill Set is eligible for RPL, then the $350 application fee will be deducted from the total cost of the Skill Set.

Fees and Refunds

AMC require a deposit in advance for students to enroll in upcoming courses. (See course information / enrolment form for full fees payable.) These fees are refundable up to the commencement of the course minus an administration fee. Once the course has commenced refer to Refund Policy.

Refund Policy

Once a course has commenced and materials have been received the participant is then committed to that course and fees will be charged accordingly. Should a student have difficulty in completing the course there are a number of options.

- Students can defer to a future course (which may require an additional administration fee at the discretion of the Director.)
- Students can withdraw from the course, but in this case, they forfeit the full cost of the course and still owe all outstanding monies. (See cooling off period as it applies to this statement)
- Full fee students in exceptional circumstances will have their case dealt with individually and in such cases a proportion of the fees may be refunded depending on the length of participation in the course and the situation around withdrawal. Exceptional circumstances could mean sudden serious injury or illness. An email outlining the circumstances is to be sent to verak@amctc.com.au.
- Students will receive full refund on provider default or the opportunity to defer to later course.
- In the event that AMC Training & Consulting or its partners cease to trade or exist, students will be given a full refund of course fees paid.

Debt Collection

Failure of a student to continue in course payment commitments will result in engagement of a debt collection service with an added cost of 20% debt recovery fee.

Certificates and Statement of Attainments will not be issued until all fees owing are paid.

Cooling off period

The Standards for Registered Training Organisations require a person to be informed of their right to a statutory cooling off period. As part of our commitment to supporting our students, we have established a standard 10-day cooling-off period (weekends/public holidays included) that applies from the date when the enrolment form is submitted.

Course Delivery

Our RTO is designed to deliver training and assessment in the following ways;

- Blended combinations of training. All of our courses are online and can be facilitated using blended delivery including classroom support or distance education with tutorial support.
- On-the-job development of skills.

(Online studies will require minimum computer operating systems, which we will advise you of prior to confirmation of enrolment)

All class work, tutorial training and / or workplace training is provided in fully equipped training facilities. Delivery methods and activities may include:

- individual or group practical activities
- additional projects which can be conducted outside of the classroom
- reports and documents
- practical projects in the workplace
- direct observation of skills in the workplace

AMC's training strategies are developed to suit the needs of the individual student, the needs of the industry and AMC capabilities. The Training and Assessment Strategy outlines how we plan to conduct our training and assessment. A copy of the Training & Assessment Strategy is available upon request.

Feedback and Surveys

AMC Training & Consulting (AMC) value ongoing feedback from our students and we aim to have a training service that is always improving our service.

We collect, analyze and act on relevant data to provide ongoing improvements and development of our

- Training and assessment strategies
- Client services and
- The systematic management of our operations

Reviews will be undertaken during training and a Questionnaire Learner Survey will be provided to you for completion. Any evaluation of services is confidential and is only used for the purposes of improving the quality of our service to students. Feedback is graphed and analyzed and presented at staff meetings.

As a Skills Assured Provider for the Department of Employment, Small Business and Training (DESBT) we wish to inform students accessing a Queensland Government subsidized training place, that The Department of Small Business and Training (DESBT) will be surveying students directly on completion or withdrawal from the program.

As an RTO, AMC is audited by the State and Federal Training Authorities. Please feel free to offer your genuine feedback should you be contacted by a representative from one of these training authorities.

Certificates and Qualifications

On successful completion of your training program AMC will issue a Certificate or Statement of Attainment, whichever is relevant for your studies. We will issue this within in 30 days of your last unit being deemed competent as long as there are no outstanding fees.

Completion of individual units of competency

If you are unable to complete the full qualification or if you choose to enroll for some of the units of competency, you will be issued with a Statement of Attainment with a list of the units achieved. Further units can be achieved at a later date through re-enrolment in a course and the full qualification can be achieved in stages.

Provision of certificates and replacement certificates

Certificates and Statements of Attainment will be provided within 30 days of successful completion of training. Qualifications are issued under the authority of relevant State Training Authority and recognised within the Australian Qualifications Framework.

Replacement Certificates are available on request. A fee will apply of $25.00 plus GST.

AMC Assessment Policy

Participants enrolled into nationally accredited qualifications and units of competency are required to demonstrate competence in the specified elements and performance criteria. Competence assessment will be undertaken within a reasonable time frame and as negotiated between assessor/trainer and student.

A student may be deemed competent if they display the following standards:

- Ability to perform relevant tasks in a variety of workplace situations, or accurately simulated workplace situations
- Demonstrated understanding of what they are doing, and why, when performing tasks
- Ability to integrate performance with understanding, to show they are able to adapt to different contexts and environments.

Upon commencement of training the student will receive a recommended personal training plan and training record with assessment due dates.

Assessments for full qualifications must be completed by due dates on the training plan and training record or re-negotiated between trainer and student. Written assessment tasks will be marked, and feedback returned to the student within 21 days of receipt.

Workplace assessments can be undertaken at a time negotiated between student and assessor. Students may receive multiple attempts at achieving competence. If at workplace assessment the assessor deems you not yet competent in a skill, reassessment must be undertaken within four weeks of feedback. Any major areas of risk will be managed on a student-by-student basis, so no aged care or disability client is at risk. Students unable to demonstrate competence in the vocational placement after additional training, feedback and a maximum of three workplace assessments will be deemed to have a Not Yet Competent outcome.

Vocational Placement (if applicable to your course)

Vocational placement is a structured, workplace learning program that requires you to attend an actual industry-relevant workplace and undertake work as if you were an employee. Vocational placement differs from Work Experience, whereby the participant is merely observing – Vocational placement means that you would undertake tasks that the other workers were doing. You would perform these tasks under the supervision of a workplace supervisor (your buddy) or your assessor (during workplace visits). This helps you to practice hands on and will link directly to the theory you are learning in the classroom. This hands-on experience will enable you to demonstrate skills that are required for completion of your qualification.

The unit of competency CHCCCS023 Support independence and wellbeing requires completion of 120 hours of vocational placement.

AMC will usually arrange your work placement; however, distance students are required to source their own.

Request for Course Extension

Requests for course extension beyond final completion date must be made to and approved by the AMC Director or her representative. An extension fee of $100.00 per month will apply.

Timeframes for completion:

- Full certificate courses – 12 months
- Skill sets – 3 - 4 months.

Feedback to Students

Trainers will provide feedback to the participants on their performance. The feedback may include one or more of the following:

- online participants will receive an email outlining the activities needing to be re-submitted as well as comments from within AMC Moodle platform.
- (if booklet used) a mark on the front of the assessment workbook (refer to marking codes)
- written 'student marking feedback' sheet on page 2 of each assessment workbook
- comments beside individual tasks on their assessment workbook or in Moodle
- all participants receive support and verbal feedback on their overall performance as required by the individual

If the participants are not satisfied with the feedback given on their work, they can discuss their work with the trainer individually.

Appealing against assessment results

Any student who believes that the mark awarded for an assessment or subject does not fairly reflect their achievement has the right to an appeal. Please refer to the Appeals Process.

Reasonable adjustments

From time-to-time AMC will encounter participants with particular needs and will make all reasonable adjustments to ensure that the participant is able to equitably participate in the training and have equal opportunity to complete the training. To this end AMC may customise certain aspects of training and assessment to permit equity. (See Participant Support)

It is not possible to accurately document all contingencies without first knowing all variables. This of course cannot be done. AMC has given a commitment to ensure equity in training and will honour that commitment where it is reasonable as determined by the Director.

Work Placement Privacy Policy

Whilst undertaking your mandatory work placement as a student of AMC, you are required to adhere to the restrictions imposed by the privacy policy of the workplace in which you have been placed.

Information provided to or obtained by you in the course of your work placement such as personal information regarding clients and company policies and procedures, are privileged and must remain private. As a representative of AMC, you are prohibited from sharing such information or opinions on social media or any other public platforms.

Harassment and bullying policy

AMC is committed to promoting a fair, safe, and healthy environment where everyone is treated with dignity and respect, and in which no individual or group feels bullied, threatened, or harassed.

This also includes sexual harassment. A single incident of unwanted or offensive behavior can amount to harassment.

Bullying or harassment in any form is unacceptable behavior and will not be tolerated. AMC will take swift and affirmative action if any such behavior is proven. This may lead to dismissal from our course.

AMC complaints and appeals processes

Comments and complaints process

AMC Training & Consulting will receive and respond to comments and complaints from any party regarding;

- AMC as a Registered Training Organisation, our trainers, assessors, or other staff.

- A third-party providing services on the RTO's behalf, its trainers, assessors/others or
- A learner of the RTO.

The process for dealing with comments and complaints are as follows.

- Receive the Complaint / Comment verbally or in writing and if necessary, may generate an AMC Comments, Complaints and Suggested Improvement Form. (See Appendix I)
- Acknowledge the complaint/comment within 3 business days in writing.
- Investigate the comment/complaint (e.g., by Director or appointed staff or trainers meeting). This investigation will involve giving anyone subject to a decision by our RTO, or anyone who has allegations made against them, to tell their side of the story before a decision is made.
- The person undertaking the investigation will not be a person who is part of the allegation.
- Make changes or suggestions to improve the service as required.
- Feedback given to complainant regarding outcome from comment will be given within 30-60 days. If the investigation and process will take longer than this, there will be regular monthly updates about what is happening with regard to the complaint's investigation.
- Comment forms are filed in a Complaints and Compliments folder.

Appeals Process

A fair and impartial appeals process is available to all participants. If a participant wishes to appeal his/her assessment result, he/she must first discuss the issue with the Trainer/ Assessor. If the participant wishes to proceed with the appeal, then the participant should complete an AMC Comments, Complaints and Suggested Improvement Form (See Appendix I) and submit this to the Training Manager or Director. If they wish not to complete the form, they can make a formal interview appointment where the discussions will be noted and signed at the end.

The appeal application should be received in writing by the Training Manager or Director, no later than 21 days after the completion of the assessment. All appeals are recorded in writing and the result of the appeal process will also be communicated to the participant in writing, including reasons for the decision made within 30-60 days.

If you are not happy with the outcome of your complaint or appeal, AMC will make arrangements for an independent third party to review the complaint or appeal. Costs up to $200 will be met by AMC, and any other costs will be paid jointly. Ask the Director or Training Manager about the independent person if you need further information. You may also contact the Department of Education Training and Employment on 1300 369 935 or the National Training Complaints Hotline on 1800 000 674

At all times we will try to resolve appeals and complaints quickly and satisfactorily.

Other Policies and information

Copies of AMC Quality Manual which contains our policies and procedures is available on request. Please advise your course coordinator if you require any further information.

Appendix 3 – Privacy Policy

Purpose

- AMC Training and Consulting ABN 931 2567 9405 (referred to as we, us or our) has implemented this Privacy Policy to provide individuals with information about how we hold and use personal information we collect.
- By providing your personal information to AMC Training and Consulting, you consent to its collection, use, storage, and disclosure in accordance with this Privacy Policy.
- If you wish to make any inquiries regarding this Privacy Policy, you should contact us using the contact details specified in section 4.7.
- We respect your privacy and are committed to protecting your personal information. This document sets out our policy on how we will manage your personal information.

Scope

- This policy applies to all AMC Training and Consulting employees, volunteers, contractors, associates, students (or prospective students), visitors and other stakeholders.

Personal Information

- Personal information has the meaning given in section 12 of the Information Privacy Act 2009 (Qld).
- The personal information collected and held about you includes but is not limited to:
- your name, address, email address, age, gender, tax file number, citizenship, unique student identifier, occupation, contact information;
- information about your education history and other related information if you are a student registered with us;
- payment details, such as your credit card details;
- details of courses undertaken with us;
- background checks including police checks and working with children checks if you apply for employment or other related positions, or this is required for vocational placement, work integrated learning or work experience (placement);
- health and sensitive information as described in section 4.3 below; and
- other information provided voluntarily by you, for example in response to surveys or competitions.

Policy detail

4.1 How do we collect your personal information?

- We collect personal information about you in a number of ways, including:
- directly from you, for example when you:
- enrol to complete a course at AMC Training and Consulting;
- undertake training with AMC Training and Consulting (including online);
- provide information to us in person or by phone, email, in an application form, or competition entry form;
- submit information through our website and
- from third parties, such as:
- AMC Training and Consulting's commercial partners;

- other government departments and agencies;
- social media sites such as Facebook, Instagram and Twitter when you contact or otherwise engage with AMC Training and Consulting through these social media sites; and
- third party service providers (including employers and job agencies), to provide or facilitate your enrolment at AMC Training and Consulting.

Where we engage with you multiple times over a short period in relation to the same matter, we may not provide you with a separate notice about privacy each time we engage with you.

4.2 How do we use your personal information?

AMC Training and Consulting may use your personal information for the primary purposes for which it was collected and related secondary purposes either related to the primary purpose, or as otherwise set out in this Privacy Policy. Such primary and secondary purposes may include, without limitation, use of your personal information to:

- process any application for enrolment you might submit to us;
- deliver or facilitate the provision of training and other related products and services and retain evidence of participation / completion;
- verify your identity;
- develop student registers to enable us to communicate with you and any nominated parent/guardian;
- facilitate health, safety and wellbeing at our campuses and other training locations (including online);
- process any job application you might submit to us;
- develop, run, administer, and promote competitions, programs, activities and other events run by us, including promotions on social media;
- market and promote products, services, merchandise, and special offers made available by us or our respective commercial partners;
- administer and manage our websites, computer networks, platforms, and other applications (“systems”) and provide you with access to those systems, to enable those systems to function, to identify you as the holder of an account, to associate account activity with your identity and to allow other users to contact you or collaborate with you on documents or other resources;
- administer and manage any account you may hold with us;
- keep adequate records for audit, record keeping and compliance purposes;
- keep you informed of news and information relating to AMC Training and Consulting, including by distributing newsletters, publications and other communication via various mediums including direct mail, email and SMS / MMS messages;
- if you are an employee or other representative of a customer to which we provide our products and services or a supplier or service provider to us, communicate with you about your or your employer's engagement with us and otherwise as specified in this Privacy Policy; and
- research and develop new programs, activities and other events relating to education and other related products and services.

We may collect and use your personal information for other purposes not listed above. If we do so, we will make it known to you at the time we collect or use your personal information, and we will ensure your personal information is used in accordance with the requirements of the Information Privacy Act 2009 (Qld).

We do not otherwise use or disclose your personal information without your permission, unless the disclosure is:

- in accordance with this Privacy Policy or any agreement you enter into with us; or
- required or authorised by law; or
- for health and safety reasons, or another authorised reason under the Information Privacy Act 2009 (Qld) or the Right to Information Act 2009 (Qld).

If you do not want to provide your personal information to us for the purposes set out in this Privacy Policy, you may not be able to enrol in courses or receive certain products and services and we may not be able to undertake certain activities for you, such as enrolling you in a course or providing you with requested information, products or services.

4.3 Health and sensitive information

In some circumstances we may collect:

- information about your health, immunisation or vaccination status (for example, certain courses may require you to be vaccinated against COVID-19, Influenza and/or other illnesses to attend mandatory placement); or
- other sensitive information about you (for example, information about your racial or ethnic origin or criminal history information required to obtain a Blue Card or other check needed to attend placement, or

We may use this health information:

- about you to ensure that any education programs in which you participate are run safely and in accordance with any special health needs you may have;
- ensure compliance with requirements for background checks, immunisation or vaccination for employment, placement or access to facilities;
- for insurance and claim management purposes; and
- otherwise as required or authorised by law.

In addition, we may use de-identified health information and other de-identified sensitive information to:

- carry out research;
- prepare submissions to government or a government body; or
- plan events and activities.

De-identified information is information which has been aggregated or otherwise anonymised so that it cannot be used to identify you or any other individual.

4.4 When do we disclose your personal information?

We may disclose your personal information to:

- if you are a school-based apprentice or VET in Schools student - your school, the Queensland Curriculum and Assessment Authority and the Queensland Tertiary Admissions Centre;
- if you are enrolled in training paid for by your employer or another third party (such as a job agency) - to your employer or that third party;
- if you are enrolled with AMC Training and Consulting and undertaking training with another organisation (including other training providers, community organisations or schools) - the organisation with which you are undertaking training;
- if you are enrolled with AMC Training and Consulting in a program eligible for articulation through a higher education delivery partner and/or intend to continue study via a prearranged articulation pathway (for example you are studying a dual qualification with AMC Training and Consulting and a higher education delivery provider) - the higher education delivery provider;

- if you are under the age of 18 - your parent/guardian (unless you have formally advised AMC Training and Consulting not to provide this information);
- Government Authorities and Agencies including but not limited to Qld Department of Employment, Small Business & Training, Centrelink, Commonwealth Department of Immigration and Citizenship, Australian Tax Office, Tertiary Education Quality and Standards Authority, the National Centre for Vocational Education and, the Commonwealth Department of Education and Training and the Tuition Assurance Scheme;

4.5 Our web site

When you visit our website, our systems may record certain information about your use of those websites (such as which web pages you visit and the time and date of your visit). We use this information to help analyse and improve the performance of our web site.

4.6 Accuracy of your personal information

We take all reasonable precautions to ensure that the personal information we collect, use, store and disclose is accurate, complete, and up to date. However, we rely on the accuracy of personal information as provided to us both directly and indirectly.

If you find that the personal information, we hold about you is inaccurate, incomplete, or out-of-date, please contact us immediately (our contact details are set out in section 4.7 below) and we will take reasonable steps to ensure that it is corrected.

4.7 How to contact us

If you have any questions in relation to this Privacy Policy or our Personal information handling processes and wish to make a complaint in relation to a breach of your privacy; or would like to correct your Personal Information held by us, you can write to AMC Training and Consulting's Director:

- at PO Box 5325 Victoria Point Q 4165; or
- email enquiry@amctc.com.au

We take all privacy complaints seriously and will investigate any such complaint in a confidential manner. You will be informed of the outcome of the investigation within a reasonable period of time.

4.8 Changes to this Privacy Policy

From time to time, we may need to change this Privacy Policy to reflect our changing business practices. If that occurs, we will post an updated version of this Privacy Policy on our website: <https://www.amctc.com.au/>
